

ANTHROPOLOGY RESEARCH TEAM

Sami people of Jona: pride and prejudice

Photo: Nina Meschtyb, 2012

Thursday, November 14, 2013, Borealis room, 15:00,

You are invited to a workshop (in Russian) with a Sami activist and writer, Aleftina Sergina from Jona village (Kola Peninsula, approx. 30 km from the Finnish border, around 100 inhabitants) to discuss different issues:

- Lovozero is not the only Sami village in Russia
- Sami potatoes project
- Finnish reindeer in Russia, tundra reindeer in the forest and failed project on reindeer re-introduction in Jona.
- Sacred sites of Sami
- Soviet and post-Soviet Jona

Organized by Anna.Stammler-Gossmann@ulapland.fi